Mount Carmel College organized an inter-collegiate academic fest “Academicia 2021” with the theme “Stoicheia”, an alluring amalgam of erudition and veracity. It had an objective of providing a fascinating experience while exploring and encouraging academic knowledge hand-in-hand through a variety of mind provoking competitions. It gave everyone a perfect platform to showcase their academic progress.

On this occasion, the B.Ed. Association hosted an event named “Educair”, where the participants needed to incorporate their creative ideas in teaching the topic of their choice. The event aimed at identifying not just the basic idea of teaching, but also unique attributes such as – articulation, communication, documentation, use of teaching aids and thereby making a creative presentation. Participants were required to record a 5–10-minute video of their presentation and attach it to the Google Drive link sent to them by 11/10/2021. There was also a check for plagiarism.

There were three participants from MCC and one each from SJCC, SJC, and Jain College. Soon as we received responses from the participants, we established a judging panel with Ms. Priya Ann Joseph, Department of Education, as its chief judge. Judging and scoring was purely based on their creativity and authenticity. Eventually, three winners were chosen and declared on 12/10/2021 on the official Instagram account of our association. The winners were from MCC and are as follows,

First place: Sarah Jabeen

Second place: Padmapriya

Third place: Agnes Theressa Livera

In the end, the event was successful in achieving its objective, where the participants had gotten a gist of teaching and how it works. We anticipate for more fun-filled and academic events conducted by the B.Ed. Association in the days to come.
