

INTERNATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL LEADERSHIP PROGRAMME – DECEMBER 2022

(DECEMBER 12TH TO 14TH)

International Environmental Leadership Program (IELP) is one of the best leadership programs in Asia. IELP -2022 was jointly organised by the Institute of Bioecosciences, Virginia, US and Department of Environmental Science, Mount Carmel College in the month of December. It was led by Dr. Sreenath Subrahmanyam, Director of Institute of Bioecosciences, Virginia, US.

It was a three-day programme conducted in Mount Carmel College Autonomous, Bangalore from December 12th to 14th 2022.

The programme gave students an exposure to the most accomplished Professors from around the world. The cohort comprised of participants from across India belonging to various discipline. They were engaged two months in prior to the programme to work in groups for their presentation. This programme gave a platform for the cohort to work together and enhance their leadership skills, build their network, and interact with the Professors.
